Flexible Spending Account Overview

What is a Flexible Spending Account (FSA)?
A Flexible Spending Account is a tax-advantaged account that allows you to use pre-tax dollars to pay for out-of-pocket qualified medical or dependent care expenses. You choose how much money you want to contribute to an FSA at the beginning of each plan year and can access these funds throughout the year.

Account Advantages

- Tax advantages. Under an FSA, you can reduce your taxable income by the amount you contribute to your FSA. You can then use these pre-tax dollars to pay for expenses that would have otherwise been paid with after-tax dollars. In addition, you do not pay social security tax on the income reduction.

- Easy to access. Funds in the account are easily accessed with the Peak1 Debit Card. Your account balance is available at any time online.

- Multiple uses. There are hundreds of eligible healthcare expenses for your FSA funds, including prescriptions, certain over-the-counter expenses, doctor co-pays, health insurance deductibles and coinsurance. FSA funds may be used for any eligible healthcare expense not covered by insurance or any other plan for yourself, your spouse or tax dependents. See the list of eligible expenses in this guide for more details.

- Rapid Reimbursements. Reimbursements are easy when you use your Peak1 Debit Card. Using the card for a qualified purchase automatically creates a claim in your online account. If you did not use your card, you can create your claim online and submit your receipts. Even if you pay for an expense using your Peak1 Debit Card, you may still need to submit receipts for that purchase. Your online account will display a notice when receipts are needed.

Fund Availability Rules and Regulations

The IRS requires that employers make the full annual FSA election available to employees when a reimbursable expense occurs, regardless of whether you have deposited enough to cover the full amount at that point in time. For example, you may designate $1,200 per year, equal to a payroll deduction of $100 a month. You are eligible for reimbursement up to the full $1,200 in the first month, even though you have only deposited $100 in your account.

In October 2013, the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the IRS issued a notice modifying the longstanding “use it or lose it” rule for health FSAs. To make FSAs more consumer-friendly and provide added flexibility, the updated rules permit employers to allow plan participants to carry over up to $500 of their unused FSA balances remaining at the end of the year. Please check with your plan documents to see if this option has been elected by your employer.
Dependent Care Assistance Program Overview

Dependent and Elder Care Assistance Program FSA (DCAP)
You may also choose to enroll in a Dependent Care Assistance Program FSA (DCAP), which covers employment-related dependent and elder care expenses and is an alternative to the Dependent Care Tax Credit. If you work and have children, a disabled spouse, or dependent parents, you know how important it is to have reliable and affordable care for them while you are at work.

A DCAP allows you to pay for these expenses and get a tax break at the same time. Expenses must be for dependents that are claimed as an exemption on your federal tax return. Typical expenses under this account include charges for day care, nursery school and elder care (unless it is for medical care) for your legal dependents. See the list of Eligible Expenses included in this guide for more details.

Eligibility Requirements
To be reimbursed through your DCAP for child and dependent care expenses, you must meet the following conditions:

- You must have incurred the expenses in order for you and your spouse, if married, to work or look for work, unless your spouse was either a full-time student or was physically or mentally incapable of self-care.
- You cannot have made the care payments to someone you can claim as your dependent on your federal tax return or to your child who is under age 19.
- Your filing status must be single, qualifying widow(er) with a dependent child, married filing jointly, or married filing separately.
- You and your spouse must maintain a home that you live in for more than half the year with the qualifying child or dependent.

Unlike the FSA, you may only receive reimbursement from your DCAP account equal to the amount you have actually deposited.

You must use all your funds by the end of your plan year (with 2 1/2 month grace period). At the end of each plan year, IRS rules require that you forfeit any money deposited in a DCAP account that are not spent. These remaining funds revert back to your employer to cover the plan’s administrative fees. Use the included FSA calculator to estimate your expenses.
Using Your Account: How It Works

Peak1 Administration makes it easy to access and use your healthcare account funds.

- Use Your Peak1 Debit Card: This is the simplest way to purchase healthcare! Pay using your Peak1 Debit Card and keep your itemized receipts as documentation. Then, log on to your online account to upload your receipts online and submit documentation.

- Pay Out of Pocket and Request Reimbursement: Pay using your own personal credit card, cash or check and keep your itemized receipt as documentation. Then, log on to your online account to file for reimbursement. Print the claim submission form and submit documentation. You may receive reimbursement funds via check or direct deposit, depending on your plan rules.

How to Pay at Different Locations: Below are more details about how to pay for healthcare at different locations.

At the Doctor, Dentist, Eye Doctor, or Hospital

When you pay for healthcare at the doctor, dentist, eye doctor, or hospital, be sure to always present your health insurance ID card first to ensure proper processing of your charges.

- Copays. If you are asked to pay a copay, you may pay with your Peak1 Debit Card, or you may pay out of pocket and request reimbursement from your account. Save your itemized receipt to submit as documentation.

- Additional Charges. If you're asked to pay additional charges, do not pay your provider until the claim is processed by your health plan and you receive your Explanation of Benefits (EOB) in the mail. This helps avoid overpayment. Compare your EOB with the provider bill to verify the amount being charged by your provider is the same as the patient balance on the EOB. After you receive your EOB, you may pay with your Peak1 Debit Card, or you may pay out of pocket and request reimbursement from your account. You may send in your EOB or itemized provider bill as documentation.

At the Pharmacy

- Prescriptions. When purchasing prescriptions, be sure to always present your health insurance ID card first to ensure proper processing of your charges. You may pay with your Peak1 Debit Card, or you may pay out of pocket and request reimbursement from your account. Save your itemized receipts for your records. Peak1 is able to auto-substantiate recurring co-pay amounts.

- Over-the-Counter Items. You may pay for eligible items with your Peak1 Debit Card, or you may pay out of pocket and request reimbursement from your account. Save your itemized receipts to submit as documentation.

At Dependent Care Locations

If you have a Dependent Care FSA, then you should pay for your qualified dependent care expenses out of pocket and request reimbursement from your account. You will need to submit your itemized receipt as documentation. Remember, receipts for these expenses must include the name of the dependent.

Submitting documentation is easy! Receipt requests will be made electronically; simply log into your online account regularly to see if receipts are needed. If documentation is required, you can scan and upload your receipts or attach and fax them to the claims department.

Using Your Peak1 Debit Card

Peak1 Administration provides a convenient healthcare payment card, Peak1 OneCard, to access account funds. You will receive your Peak1 OneCard in the mail. It will come in a plain white envelope with Peak1 Administration’s return address.

Use Your Healthcare Payment Card

Pay for qualified products and services directly at approved merchants (see sidebar). The money comes right out of your healthcare account. Your Peak1 Debit Card is a prepaid card, but you are generally able to select "credit" or "debit" at the point of sale. Some merchants may require a purchase with "debit" and a correct PIN number.

Get Your Balance

By frequently checking your account balance online, you will have a good idea of the amount of funds available in your account. When you swipe your healthcare payment card, the system makes sure that your coverage is active and that you have sufficient funds in your account for the full amount. If not, the transaction will be denied. You can swipe the card for the amount left in your account and pay the difference with another form of payment.

Know What’s Eligible

Familiarize yourself with what expenses are eligible from your employer’s plan documents. Examples of eligible expenses are doctors' visits, prescription drugs and many over-the-counter expenses.

Save Your Receipts

Although your healthcare payment card eliminates the need to file paper claims, the IRS requires that your charges be verified. Always save your receipts in case Peak1 requests to confirm a purchase or for tax purposes. Your online account will display a notice when receipts are needed.

Lost or Stolen Cards: Report a lost or stolen card immediately to MemberCare by calling toll-free 866.315.1777.

Use Your Card at Approved Merchants

Your card has been programmed to work only at merchant locations that are designated as healthcare merchants based on their Merchant Category Code (MCC).

Examples of qualified merchants include doctor’s offices and hospitals. The card should only be used to pay for eligible medical expenses, and you should always save your receipts.

A few examples of where you could use your OneCard include: Wal-Mart, Walgreens, Rite-Aid, and many more locations.

For purchases at those locations, you can pay with other means, then submit a request for reimbursement through your online account at:
